

Skippers jaw dropped open wide sitting before ~~the~~ him was a enormous amount of acorns stacked up until the top of his swingset it was all prepared ready for him to eat it all up meanwhile he was staring at the gigantic pile of acorns his 2 mean brothers were sitting on top of a nearby tree watching there trick unfold skipper ran into his house to get a basket to pick as much acorns as he could after a while of searching for his basket skipper returned to his swingset and hurried to fill ~~to with acorns~~ his basket with acorns eagerly ready to grab as much as he could he smacked his arms around the huge pile of acorns when suddenly his hand went crashing into a hard wooden box causing him to fall backwards on the muddy ground "ouch" he yelled to the silent forest suddenly he became aware of someone laughing from high above in the trees then he turned his eyes upwards and couldent believe what he saw his two naughty brothers

The first few days were spent sitting before him was a enormous amount of papers stacked up until the top of his head it was all prepared ready for him to read if all up meanwhile he was reading of the gigantic pile of papers his more than were sitting on top of a heavy iron table. There were unfiled papers and into his house he got a basket to pick up much paper as he could offer a while of reading for his basket slipped behind to his ~~emerged and started to fill~~ his basket with papers eagerly ready to give as much as he could be his arms around the huge pile of papers when suddenly his hand was caught a hard wooden box came up to his backhand on the only ground "ouch" he yelled to the silent forest suddenly he became aware of someone laughing from high above in the trees then he turned his eyes upward and catching sight what he saw his two bright were sitting on top of a nearby tree and looking at him and giggling to each other and at one point they both came down from the tree and told him what they have done it all began with a board Sunday afternoon until Skippers 2 brothers had thought of a good prank to play on there occupied brother skipper they would go to a small shop and buy a spray that is invisible (makes stuff) and then they would ^{invisible} come home and put together a wooden box and spray it with the invisible spray and made the box invisible and put in their massive pile of acorns in the box and placed it on Skippers favorite swing they knew he would visit shortly and then they enjoyed the acorns!

THE END !

were sitting on top of a nearby tree and looking at him and smiling to each other and at one point they both came down from the tree and held him when they were done it all began with a good Sunday afternoon until it became a football and brought of a good group to play on their occupied football field they would go to a small shop and buy a spray that is invisible (invisible) and then they would come home and put together a wooden box and spray it with the invisible spray and make the box invisible and put in their massive pile of money in the box and placed it on shelves for hiding they now no longer visit secretly and then they to laugh the owners!
