

It was a bright sunny day. Skipper the swingit squirrel was feeling his usual self: a lil' hyper and nutty. He decided to run outside and play on his playset. Imagine his surprise when he arrived to find a giant silver square next to his playset. What in the world is that? Skipper wondered. He approached it cautiously, then took a running leap and jumped onto it. Suddenly there was a tornado of colors spinning around him. Skipper fell and kept on falling. He was really excited. He landed with a soft thump. There was a bright flash and the tornado disappeared. Skipper jumped up and looked around. His eyes spotted something, and he gasped. Could it be? No, it couldn't. But it was! There, right in front of him, was... THE DREAM SWINGIT PLAYSET! Nobody had it yet, not even Skipper! This playset had an ice cream maker, a huge rock wall, thirty different types of swings, a fifty foot zipline, a tree with a tree house, water slide, a balance beam, ten types of monkey bars, a trampoline, a really big fire pole- it was huge! It looked like to Skipper that the playset was begging him to come and play! Skipper didn't need a second invitation. He jumped on the playset happily, but as soon as he touched it, the tornado began again. Skipper moaned. He wasn't able to play one bit! He fell again and landed. He looked up sadly and can you guess what he saw? The dream swingit playset was right there in his backyard !!!!! Skipper was overjoyed and wrote a letter to the swingit company, thanking them.
