

....NOTHING!! His playset was GONE! He looked around and saw a screw, and then another. He saw a bunch more until it finally took him all the way to the trees behind his playset. Over there there was a slide, no not a whole one but rather a half of a slide. Skipper the S.I.S. (Swingit squirrel) besides being a lil' hyper and nutty he was a little nervous. He reached the forest and saw a pack of wolves, 6 sick wolves near them was half of a swingit set. Skipper the S.I.S got so excited that the mystery was solved. But then Skipper the S.I.S. got sad because he didn't have a Swingit playset and he started to cry. Then he jumped up and he remembered that he has a 10 year warranty. He called up SwingIt and got a brand new playset.
