

It was a bright sunny day. Skipper the squirrel was feeling his usual self: a lil' hyper and nutty. He decided to run outside and play on his play set. Imagine his surprise when he arrived to find a whole barbecue. There was hotdogs, hotdog buns, burgers, burger buns, french fries, spicy fries, ketchup, mustard, sauerkraut, tomatoes, pickles, potatoes, and lettuce . He said 'what should i do with all this food? He decided to invite all his squirrel friends for a party. It turns out today was Skippers birthday .

The next day they had A BIG BIG party. They played musical chairs and jump rope And duck duck goose and had a cake that's shaped like a nut and they also had cupcakes and ice cream. When it was time for present opening there was a lot of nuts. Skipper was really happy.
