

It was a bright sunny day. Skipper the swing it squirrel was feeling his usual self: a lil' hyper and nutty. He decided to run outside to play on his playset. Imagine his surprise to find an envelope on his favorite blue swing! He opened it up and read :

"Please come to the swing it headquarters as soon as possible."

It must be important if they need me to come so quickly, thought Skipper. When he arrived at the swing it headquarters he was surprised to find 5 other people there! They started telling Skipper why they called him to come:

"Last night we went outside to go on our swing it playset, and were shocked to see it wasn't there! We decided to deal with it the next morning."

They finished telling Skipper, there was a big silence. Then Skipper said "let's call the swing it manager and tell him what happened". Skipper dialed the number, and after 3 rings he picked up. "hello" he said. "Hi this is Skipper the swing it squirrel. Can you come to the swing it headquarters?" "yeah I'll be there in 5 minutes" the swing it manager said. Skipper hung up the phone and told all the people that he'll be here in 5 minutes. When he arrived they told him what happened. He started laughing uncontrollably. After he calmed down and took a drink he explain: A few days ago I ordered a new swing it playset. It's supposed to arrive tomorrow. Yesterday I called a mover company to take the swing it playset away to make room for the new one

He finished telling them and they all burst out laughing! The next day the new swing it playset arrived! It even had a blue swing Skipper's favorite color
